Papke Boy Dies of Auto Accident Injuries

LOSES 32-HOUR FIGHT FOR LIFE; INQUEST TUESDAY

CORONER'S JURY IMPANELLED TO DETERMINE HOW CHILD MET DEATH.

FEW WITNESSES

More Are Wanted by Officials—Funeral of Boy To Be Held Tomorrow Morning.

Fighting bravely to the last against hopeless odds, five-year old Harold Papke died at Mercy hospital shortly after 12:30 o'clock this morning, 32 hours after he was knocked down by a roadster when he attempted to cross South High street. Thus another tragic chapter is added to Janesville's book of auto death tolls. Death was due to a fractured skull and concussion of the brain. The child's right ear was torn off in his fall to the pavement. A coroner's jury was impaneled this morning by County Coroner Amos Rehberg, and the body of the unfortunate child was reviewed in Kimball's undertaking rooms. The inquest to determine whether the boy met his death through carelessness or negligence on the part of the driver of the car, Earl Cousins, 21, will be held next Tuesday morning in municipal court.

Driver Under Bail
The outcome of the coroner's inquest will determine whether Cousins shall stand bail for manslaughter. He retained his liberty today on bail of $300 furnished yesterday by Fred P. Bemis, who owned the car which killed the Papke boy. The coroner's jury is made up of: Amos Rehberg, George C. Olin, George King, Ben Smith, George Neuman, Robert Conway.

Five See Witnesses
Although it is believed several people saw the accident Sunday afternoon, officials have yet received no response for their appeal for eye-witnesses to testify. The request for them to testify, Chief Morrissey was renewed today. Police have begun an investigation to see if more witnesses cannot be secured. Funeral services for the child victim will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow at the home of his parents, 15 South High street, the Grand hotel annex. Rev. T. C. Thorson will officiate. The body will be shipped to Chicago to Chilton where interment will be made.

SHIPS NOT IN REPAIR WHEN U. S. DECLARED WAR, ASSERTS SIMS

Washington, March 23.—Cross examination of Rear Admiral Sims was continued today before the senate committee investigating the navy's conduct of the war with Senators Pittman of Nevada and Trammell of Florida, democrats, undertaking to show that the United States was not wholly responsible for heavy submarine losses during the two months immediately following the entry of the United States into the war.

Admiral Sims said adoption of the convoy system marked the turning point of the war and that the allies had to wait for American cooperation before the plan could be made effective.

The convoy was adopted by the allies experimentally about May 2, 1917, he said. The United States was asked to furnish 14 cruisers for escorts. No cruisers were furnished for many weeks and then only six. Our delay was extremely costly.

Our destroyers and other ships should have sailed the night we declared war and there was no good reason why they should not have done so. If they had, 2,500,000 tons of shipping would have been saved and the United States would have had an army of 1,000,000 men in France by May 1, 1918. The fact that after we declared war many American ships had to be placed in drydock and be repaired before they could be sent to the war zone.

Council Lifts Ban on Sunday Amusements

All city ordinances requiring closing alleys and bowling halls to remain closed on Sundays were thrown into the discard by unanimous action taken by the council last night. The ordinance of 1917 is now in effect.

These places of amusement are now open to the public as far as Sunday is concerned with theaters. The understanding is that they will not open Sundays until noon at the earliest.

Passage of the ordinance last night was made possible by Akl. J. D. Horn's motion to suspend the rule as Sunday is on its final passage after he had introduced it and given it its first two readings. The vote on both the proposed ordinance was 10-0.

Billiard halls and bowling alleys are now governed by the same ordinance effective other than the rule which remains closed from 11 o'clock at night until 6 o'clock the next morning.

WOMAN TO RUN FOR SCHOOL BOARD JOB

Mrs. Fred Sutherland Enters Race Against Hooper—Algermanic Fights Assured in All Wards.

For the second time in Janesville's history a woman will seek office on the board of education. Mrs. Fred Sutherland, a first ward woman living at 331 North Washington street, will enter the race against Hooper at the election two weeks from today. Both seek election as school commissioner-at-large.

Clark vs. Mendez
Another political announcement today hailed as of interest generally was that of Mrs. Clark, a C. N. W. sheet metal worker, makes an aldermanic contest in everyone of the five wards assured.

Big Vote Predicted
Whether the woman suffrage amendment will have little effect on the number of women's votes cast here April 6, as it is expected to do, is a matter of great numbers to cast their ballots for school commissioner.

Mrs. Sutherland is said to have the backing of the National American Woman Suffrage association. Judge Hughes of the Wisconsin supreme court, in his opinion claims that the amendment in any case would confer only the right to vote for senators and representatives was equal in verbiage of the Anthony amendment and the fifth amendment extending suffrage to negroes, Mr. Hughes said.

Applies to All Elections
If the suffrage amendment is duly ratified so as to become a part of the federal constitution, it is the opinion that the amendment would be immediately self-executing and will render invalid and therefore ineffective any existing provision for electing a school commissioner solely upon the ground of sex. Further the amendment in my judgment will apply to all elections against the reform.

McCann's Papers Filed
C. R. McCann, grocer, filed papers in the county clerk's office today for the election of a school commissioner. This makes a three-cornered race in the fourth ward, certain G. L. Travers and Emil Pautz having filed their papers early Monday.

In announcing his entry into the second ward contest today, Mr. Clark said he would stand for a square deal for every one and special privileges for none.

SUFFRAGETTES ARE HOPEFUL AS ACTION DRAGS IN DELAWARE

LEGISLATURE IN LAST NEEDED STATE DELAYS VOTE ON RATIFICATION.

JUDGE IN RULING

Claims of 'Antis on Limitations of Law Called Erroneous.

BULLETIN

Philadelphia, Pa., March 23.—A dispatch to the Evening Bulletin from Dover, Del., where the legislature met in special session today, says ratification of the suffrage amendment by Delaware seems doomed unless something unexpected develops to influence members now apparently against such action.

[By Associated Press.]
Dover, Del., March 23.—Whether the women of America will participate in the forthcoming presidential primaries and in the November national election as provided in the proposed amendment to the federal constitution, apparently rested today on the Delaware legislature in extraordinary session here. Thirty-five of the 36 states necessary for the ratification of the amendment have acted affirmatively.

Both the suffragettes and those opposed today appeared confident of victory.

WASHINGTON IS 35TH STATE TO RATIFY

Olympia, Wash., March 23.—Ratification of the suffrage amendment was completed by the Washington legislature yesterday. Washington was the thirty-fifth state to ratify the amendment.

HUGHES CALLS ERRONEOUS CLAIMS OF ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS

New York, March 23.—Claims of anti-suffragists that the Anthony amendment to the constitution, if adopted, would be ineffective in states where state constitutions had been amended, are erroneous, according to an opinion obtained from Charles E. Hughes, former justice of the United States supreme court by the National American Woman Suffrage association. Judge Hughes said so advised the association that in his opinion claims that the amendment in any case would confer only the right to vote for senators and representatives was equal in verbiage of the Anthony amendment and the fifth amendment extending suffrage to negroes, Mr. Hughes said.

KING'S FIRST LEEVE SINCE PRE-WAR DAYS IS BRILLIANT AFFAIR

[By Associated Press.]

A feature was the presentation of numbers of representatives of new states, including Finland, Poland, and the new republics of the Balkans.

BIG MEETING OF FARMERS, FRIDAY

Growers from All Sections to Meet at Court House—Lowan Here to Boost Farm Bureau.

In order to arouse the state of Wisconsin to the importance of the farm bureau movement, the Rock County Farm Bureau has secured the services of J. R. Howard, clerk of the Wisconsin legislature, the newly formed American Farm Bureau federation, to hold a big meeting at the court house here Friday afternoon at 2 p. m.

This is a step taken to place the bureau directly in front of the farmer and the public in addition to the numerous meetings being held this week in the various towns of the county. C. E. Culver, secretary of the executive committee of the Rock county bureau, today sent out letters to hundreds of farmers within the county telling them of the meeting and urging them to attend.

Of State-Wide Importance.
Special requests to attend are being sent out to all the county agents of the state. Many other men of more than ordinary position will be present. The meeting is considered of state-wide importance.

It was not known until today that Mr. Howard could be procured, but in accordance with the plan of the bureau, which was to have the earliest date practicable so that the uncertainty as to the fuel supply may be ended and that the consumers before the coal strike contracts for their coal supply.

The president said he assumed that the coal strike would raise any question and that he was sure that no question could properly be raised as to the binding character of the agreement, notwithstanding the fact that it was not unanimous.

The executive committee of the government order of prices removes virtually all government control of coal, placing the fuel administration in the hands of the private industry, which was restored when the miners struck last November 1.

No Law for Fixing Prices
The president said there was no provision of law for fixing new coal (Continued on page 10.)

GERMAN LABOR RULE IS PROPOSED TO BAUER

[By Associated Press.]
London, March 23.—The proposal of Gustav Bauer, the German premier, for the formation of a labor government for Germany, excluding the bourgeois parties, was advanced by the independent socialist, a correspondent at Berlin, reports, he adds.

The labor government would undoubtedly be against such a proposal, fearing it would result in a proletarian dictatorship.

Such a government would be formed if it would have either to ignore the national assembly or else retire as soon as it came into conflict with the will of the people's representatives, which would be almost certain to happen upon the introduction of its socialistic proposals.

The labor government informed the independents that it would be necessary to consult all parties before an answer could be given.

PUBLIC TO CARRY WAGE ADVANCE TO COAL MINERS

WILSON WITHDRAWS FEDERAL CONTROL, TO BECOME EFFECTIVE APRIL 1.

REPORTS PUBLIC

President Asks Agreement Be Reached Soon on Majority Recommendations.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, March 23.—President Wilson today withdrew government control of the price of bituminous coal so that the 27 percent wage advance for miners recommended by the majority of the coal strike settlement commission may be absorbed in the price the consumer will pay after April 1. The commission estimated this wage advance at $200,000,000 a year.

At the same time the president made public the majority and minority reports of the commission and miners asking that they reach an agreement on the basis of the majority report alone as speedily as possible so that the uncertainty regarding the fuel situation might be removed.

The operators were warned by President Wilson against violating laws against combinations in restraint of trade and profiteering and also not to exact "unreasonable prices for coal."

April 1 is the date on which these agreements normally would become effective and by removing government control of prices of coal, the president paves the way for increased coal prices to absorb the average 27 percent increase recommended by the majority report.

The president wrote the operators and miners that it was "essential to the public welfare that the agreement be reached as soon as possible so that the uncertainty as to the fuel supply may be ended and that the consumers before the coal strike contracts for their coal supply."

The president said he assumed that the coal strike would raise any question and that he was sure that no question could properly be raised as to the binding character of the agreement, notwithstanding the fact that it was not unanimous.

PLUMBING WORK IN CITY 760 PERCENT GREATER THAN 1918

Ample proof of Janesville's unprecedented leap forward during 1919 is furnished by the yearly report just compiled by George W. V. Slightam, plumbing inspector. Nearly eight times as much plumbing work was done last year compared to that of 1918. So great has been the rush this year that it has delayed Mr. Slightam's report for the year until this time, he says.

Where in 1918 only 350 fixtures were installed and the fees paid reached but $180, last year the total number of fixtures installed was 2,740 while the fees totaling $1,370 were collected. The report shows, inspections last year totaled $39, with 101 rejections.

In submitting his report to the council last night, Mr. Slightam recommended passage of an ordinance ordering the removal of all outside closets where water and sewers have been made available, and within reasonable time. He asked this as "an innumerable and ever-increasing number of complaints are coming into this office."

SAMSON EMPLOYEES SHOW PROVES FINE ATTRACTION AT MYERS

With brilliant stage effects, attractive costumes, sparkling music, a most excellent chorus, many almost new jokes and several extremely clever acts, the Samson Employees Association made its stage premier last night at Myers theater. The show will be repeated tonight and Wednesday and the spreading of the glad tidings of the worth-whileness of the offering should pack the house up and down tonight and tomorrow.

With the exception of two breaks in the program the cast is made up of Janesville people. Most of them have passed from the amateur class into the semi-pros. Alvin Robb in "Slow and Easy" reminding one of the old timers of Billy Emerson when he sang "Take yo' foot out ob de san" brought him repeated applause. Little Miss Annie Clay singing back at Miss Marion Fletcher from an upper box made a hit in the song and dance act. "Baby" with a bevy of loveliness and grace in the double quartet of baby girls.

Mrs. Edwards was rewarded for a beautifully voiced song by generous applause. Here is the program:

Part 1, Minstrel, Minstrel first part, S. H. Edwards, interlocutor, Ray Mason, Walter H. Serow, H. A. Lindstrom, Bob Clithero, Theodore Bradford, Art Dickenson, J. P. Hunter, H. J. Young, Ballard singers, Dave McCulloch and Theo. Davey.

Part 2, Minstrel, Minstrel second part, S. H. Edwards, interlocutor, Ray Mason, Art Dickenson, Walter Serow and Alex Robb supplied the black face comedy, including the "Huckleberry" and "The Wedding" songs.

Bob Clithero, as the waiter on the dining car kept things moving with the aid of Miss Hazel Van Wormer, Ralph Muehler, J. Danksy, Wm. Cheatham and the Misses Marie Crowley, Regina Brennan, Dorothy Brigham, Edna Temple, Messrs. Jack Taylor, Arthur Peterson, J. M. Thayer, Neal Dapp.

Assisting Miss Fletcher and Annie Clay in "Baby" was the octet, Mary Stewart, Margaret Donahue, Hazel Myhr, Ethel Harris, Mrs. R. H. Broadard, Hazel Stewart, Rose Broadard, Sara Crane.

May, C. Mason and Chas. Correll, musical director for the Brew company who are putting on the show, pull a conversational stunt. An operatic taverly by the Sand Carrots company is followed by a burlesque mind reading act with E. H. McGee and T. G. Wilcox.

In the colorful closing scene Mark Underwood with a good voice makes his appearance.

It is certainly a good show and the box office receipts will help swell the funds for the Samson baseball club.

KU-KLUX-CLAN TO BE AT WORK TONIGHT

Steels Make the Maxwell Thrifty.

SEVERAL million dollars have been expended to provide more elegance, more refinement, more comfort to the current Maxwells. It is in ever so many ways a superior appearing car; superior, too, in action.

But not a single pound of weight has been added to burden the work of its great engine!

Therefore, despite the many processes of improvement, it doesn't cost a penny more to run a Maxwell than it did a year ago.

The underlying principle of every Maxwell is to give economic transportation.

This means light weight. But it means strong steels, as well.

It is no easy trick to provide both lightness and strength in metal. Such a rare combination means high cost steels.

And you would find, if you compared a Maxwell with any car, that it equaled that car pound for pound in fine metals.

How such steels affect your pocketbook is obvious.

1. They are light in weight and hence give more mileage on a gallon of gasoline.

2. As they are fine steels they give long and uninterrupted wear. Which are but two of many reasons for that definite tendency of world-wide friendship towards Maxwell.

In six years nearly 400,000 have found their answer to the motor car question in a Maxwell.

This year 100,000 Maxwells are being produced. This will supply but 60% of the demand.

NEW GARBAGE LAW UP FOR ACTION AT NEXT COUNCIL MEET

Councilmen are determined to fight the garbage question through to a successful finish. Faced with admitted failure of the one now in existence, requiring householders to have their garbage picked up by authorized collectors, they plan to adopt a new one probably at their next meeting.

It is proposed to license all those who would collect offal and permit individuals to engage any whom they see fit. Sanitary wagons would be required under the new ordinance.

Brought up at the council meeting last night by Ald. J. J. Dulin, he suggested purchase of one-ton dump truck to handle the problem if the present ordinance continues in effect. Told that passage of a new ordinance would be more desirable, he continued to emphasize the need of a dump truck which he said could be used to advantage by the street department.

SHOE FIRM STOCK OWNERS BENEFIT

To distribute $19,553.59 in insurance on the life of F. M. Marzluft, this city, who died in January, Judge George Grinnell circuit here, has appointed A. E. Matheson trustee for the preferred stockholders of the defunct F. M. Marzluft Co.

The Marzluft concern formerly manufactured shoes in Janesville, but failed in 1910. Unable to realize on their investments in the company, the preferred stockholders, 48 in number, holding from $100 to $2,000, took out a $20,000 insurance policy on the life of Mr. Marzluft.

Upon his death, they petitioned the court for authority to distribute the funds. Now that this has been granted, each will receive approximately $116.39 on each $100 put in the company. A sum of $163 is retained for possible federal income tax, which is to be distributed if it is found not necessary to pay it.

MERCHANTS TALK OF FREE CARFARE

To discuss propositions concerning the retailer, a meeting of the Janesville Retail Merchants' association will be held at the Chamber of Commerce tonight. One of the matters to come before the members will be the advisability of putting a proposition into effect for refunding carfare to out-of-town customers.

By this scheme a person from some other town buying merchandise in Janesville from 25 miles away who buys $25 worth of goods would be given carfare, both ways, for the trip. A buyer coming from 100 miles away would be given a ticket on the purchase of $100 worth of goods.

The goods, it is explained need not be bought in only one store, but at each place a slip noting the amount of purchase will be given and upon presentation of these at the Chamber of Commerce the railway fare will be refunded.

Credits and program advertising will also be discussed.

TWO CARS STOLEN IN BELOIT; NONE HERE

Auto thieves working in this section of the state have so far been kind to Janesville, not one having been reported stolen this year. Two have been reported stolen in Beloit, one of them a Ford car owned by the city engineering department.

Local police have been asked to be on the look-out for them. The second car stolen was a Studebaker six, 7-passenger, with maroon colored body.

Discussing the car situation today, Chief Morrissey declared car owners have had plenty of time to get their 1920 licenses and that he planned to begin arresting violators.

Last Days of the Hack

The passing of that antiquated vehicle—the time honored hearse on wheels—is well high accomplished and with it passes on other conveyances, the hack, the hearse, the baby carriage, the high top, the demigold in liveries, the landau thrown open to display the town's dignitaries leading the Fourth of July parade, the hacks conveying friends on missions of extreme joy or woe—the wedding and the funeral, broughams, chaises, and coaches, the day buggy are all transitory splendors of other days being hastily replaced by the more efficient motor cars.

Dan Ryan & Son who maintained a livery in connection with their business at 33 South Main street for 35 years sold at public auction last week their hearse, hacks, surreys, bobs, conveyances, in fact all horse drawn conveyances, all of which are to be replaced by automobiles. Buggies and surreys which were the pride of their owners and the joy of customers sold for a song, with Col. W. T. Dooley chanting a requiem of $20 over the hearse which not many years ago brought for $1,000. Alva Winslow, two hacks and L. J. Cronin, one of the local buyers said that he hardly knew what to do with his horse drawn conveyances. He had purchased them for his son, but his son had no use for them. He had to sell them for a song.

The carriage purchased by Mr. Cronin is of historic value, it being the favorite of Frances Willard, temperance leader, who when she contemplated a visit to the home of her childhood would write to her carriage and ask it to take her carriage and the hearse team in readiness.

Remember that pompous, high old carriage which always led the parade, drawing in majestic state, the queen of the carnival, the manager of Nonesuch Brothers circus, or some singer, renowned for carnyval at the fair. Well, that has gone into the movies, that and other equally antiquated broughams have been sold to the buyers. Dubuque, the moving picture man who sees in these relics prospects to be used in staging films. Surreys, cutters, bobs and buggies went to the only inhuman who knows his way home. And the 36 year old carriage which was the mainstay for many a rollicking picnic up the river or near by lake will soon be converted into a milk wagon, the farmer who purchased it says.

Jim and Betty, the sorrel team which reigned supreme in the affections of customers went to the hearse, Black Beauty, Molly, Daisy and Sport have made their exits with the rest and will retire gracefully to private life.

Carriages like dead men tell no tales but how many episodes of emotion are lurking in the rusty wheels of the hack, the hearse, the baby carriage or the high top? For isn't it or wasn't it when they were in vogue, true that we never hired a carriage unless to convey us on some mission of importance, or concern? A hack of the livery ushers in the milestones of an ordinary life-time. The vehicle of faith bringing the babe to the church with its godparents for baptism! A carriage brim full of rosy hopes lags along so it seems to the sweet girl graduates who is eager to be at the scene of commencement! The love chariot bearing in style the ardent young couple to the altar! The grim reaper takes it's toll and the selfsame hack of brighter days halts the bier to deport a solitary mourner!

What Do You Want To Know?

Major Rudolph Schroeder, a Chicago aviator was between six and seven miles high, lost control of his plane and fell, gaining control just before he landed, is given in answer to a question regarding the greatest altitude from which an aviator has fallen.

Delving into the fish kingdom, Mr. Haskin says that bull frogs will eat the spawn of gold fish but that polly wogs will not. Gold fish will spawn in an outside pool in Wisconsin about June.

Yes, it is true that locomotives shipped to Europe during the war have not been returned to this country. The standing army of the United States February 3 was 241,474. No statistics show that a certain number of men are ready to be called to arms on short notice. A local reader is informed that cotton producers are allowed to send cotton to Czechoslovakia.

London, March 23.—The situation in the Ruhr valley, the stronghold of the German reds, is expected in diplomatic and military circles here to remain virtually unchanged until the peace conference in London decide whether German government troops shall be allowed in that district.

This is the only instance where the entente may take a hand in the German disorders and then only because Germany under the provisions of the treaty does not control that section of the country. It is declared here that the entente is still maintaining a hands off policy, notwithstanding the reports that the British mission in Berlin is attempting to dictate to the Ebert government.

The clash between regular troops and insurgents at Henningdorf, near Berlin yesterday, resulted in the killing of 40 persons and the wounding of 65, according to a message from Berlin today.

He did not return at noon and Mrs. Smith instituted a search. It was found that he had passed through the lumber yard on his way to the swamp where he owned property. Men searched the swamp without discovering any trace of him. It was then decided to employ bloodhounds. Mr. Smith had been suffering with heart trouble, suffering an acute attack a few days prior to his disappearance.

PLAY GREATEST CARDS-FAIRIES GAME AT BELOIT TONIGHT

SERIES NOW 3-2 FAVOR OF CARDS

Should Beloit Win, Tie Game
Will Be Played Off Next
Thursday Night.

TONIGHT'S LINEUP

Cardinals.....Talley
Levi.....Phillips
Kant.....Zabot
Brum.....Witte
Young.....Woods
Halt.....
Beloit will be a utility man for the Cards. Lavin will be on the side lines for the Fairies.

By far the greatest game of the series between the Lakota Cardinals and the Beloit Fairies will be played tonight at the gymnasium of Beloit college starting at 8:15. With the series standing 3 to 2 in favor of the Fairies, the Gateway city is successful. If the rubber will be played off on Thursday night.

On the other hand the Cards are determined that they will be the winners tonight and thus end the season. Every effort has been made to get a lineup that will be one of the strongest of the season. There is no doubt, according to the Cardinals managers, as to the strength of the lineup. According to announcement made today, he will positively be here. In the guard position as a native son, Young will be found a star from Madison named Hal. He played with the Cards a few weeks ago at Monroe.

No changes are reported in the lineup, but it must be taken into consideration that Beloit has developed a machine that works to perfection and is improving. The loss of Gharrett, who never did very much, at least in the line, has not affected the good work of the line.

The largest crowd of rooters to go down from this city is expected for tonight's game. While a school of brewers is expected to come down on the train and some on early cars. The doors of the gymnasium will be open at 7 o'clock. The game will start at 8:15. Tickets are on sale only at the window in the lobby. The Jamesville fans being assured of reserved seats.

BREWERS PLAY FIRST PRACTICE BALL GAME

Evansville, Ind., March 23.—The Brewers were jubilant in their hotel here last night after their practice skirmish at Bosse field, the first attempt of the training season at playing a ball game. Six innings were played between two makeshift lineups headed by Earl Howard and Red Smith.

A score, which somebody kept, showed the game at the end to be 13 to 7, in favor of Howard's team. A dozen other excuses were put forth, but the old pep was there on both sides.

ANOTHER MAN'S DIARY

I have just come back from a dizzy trip to New York where I slept in a hotel room. At the price of a hotel room, I was in a hotel room. Supported on a shaky scaffold, I think the country is going to the dogs. Why I saw a notice in the lobby of a building that looked like a school. That said: Night courses in dynamic socialism. And if that isn't a job for the bomb squad. And the L. W. W. catches I don't know. And then I saw a public square where thousands of impressionable people pass every day. Was another big sign. That said: LUCKY STRIKE. And it looks to me that the whole town is going Red. And the solid citizens had better stop it. Yours truly, Hard Boiled.

If the billiards don't stop soon, says ex-Sergeant Scott, the girls will never get started with their Spring furs.

NOT YET. And despite "Hardboiled's" prophecies, we read in the New York Globe "Communism Spreading in Russia," which shows how pessimistic we've been. All this time we thought communism was all over the place!

Some Additional Signs of Spring

The golfer long has been the source of wheezes for the cartoonist, and the eccentric sporting editor, not to mention many others. In the March 11 issue of the Gazette, under the caption, "Signs of Spring," a sports story was printed to which two yanks—two chaps who only a year or so ago were cursing the mud of France—look exception.

Now this story—well, let a comparison be made between the sporting editor's story and the individual's letter.

"SIGNS OF SPRING." "An article appearing in a recent issue of the Gazette under the above title quoted as follows:

In the spring the golfer's fancy turns toward the velvet turf. "The reader was led to believe that in a game between a certain prominent young captain and erstwhile major, the game was abruptly terminated because of the major's fancy, or in this case as it happened to be, the ball would not stay on the velvet turf, but persisted in seeking the bit of turf with which the linkers of the country club abounded. "But, dear reader, the real reason was that the said captain, after one round had been played, was four down and not going very strong, when suddenly he remembered that food had not passed his lips all day, a perfect abill, and thus the game ended."

"Moral—Even a poor golfer at times can have a good excuse."

Editor's Note.—The major wants A. Schulz, P. Hack, Shelbyville. It plainly understood that he has lots of golf balls and declares he had more than one on the occasion in question.)

THE DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

HER FAMILY HAS ITS HOUR OF REJOICING.

The great news broke this morning at the breakfast table. Aunt Cora noticed my pale cheeks. She would never have had them for the same reason herself she feels a bit pained.

"Then mother asked me if I had been up to all hours and why I refused to take care of my health and complexion. I let them say some more, and then I said I was waiting for my cue to spring the glad tidings to them."

"Nanny, my small sister, finally wrung it from me, she pined up: 'Della says that Lindsey'll never get a husband, if she doesn't stop fooling around with boys and changing her mind about things so often.'"

"Is that so, young lady?" said I, blessing Jack at the moment for the triumph that he gave me over my sisters. "Well, I expect to have a husband in just one month's time. The latest percolating in mine of my pale cheeks and many faults."

Mother promptly dropped her glasses into her plate and Aunt Cecelia, saying a little scream of excitement—she would—and said:

"Oh, Lindsey, has THE MAN come into your life at last, dear? Just as if I were thirty years old and—"

"Yes," I assured her, gleefully. "I expect to be Mrs. Jack Martin on the first of June, if my wedding can be gotten together by that date."

Poor dear mother came up to me and hugged the very life out of me at the point.

"Oh, Lindsey, dear, I'm so, so happy," she said. "Just the man that I wanted, too."

And at this, though mother did not notice how funny it sounded, she was that excited.

"You won't change your mind this time, will you, darling?" Dad'll see to it that the wedding dress is ready by the fifth. Dear Jack. How happy he must be and you are indeed a wonderful girl to get such a husband. There are all sorts of girls here that would give their two eyes to have him. And that lovely house in Belton. Oh, Lindsey, dear, you know so little about running a home that I really fear for your future peace of mind where domestic details are concerned."

I assured mother that I would manage somehow and that Jack wasn't at all fussy. I was so glad to see that he never, never would dream of complaining at anything or of minding mistakes that I might make. Mother had her first remark. It irritated me considerably. Why do grown-ups smile at the pretty illusions of a girl? I wonder. Next I flipped a card of bread across the table, aiming at my nose, and just to show me, I suspect, that I could not improve with my new importance. Girls of ten are so aggravating.

It was a happy family breakfast, after all, and we sat over it till the telephone, ringing persistently, brought Jack more vividly before us all in the form of a prospective husband than mere words could tell.

"I really felt very important as he cooed to me over the phone in a possessive tone."

"Then I slept well, was I happy, how had the family taken it?" etc. Funny how differently one behaves when one is engaged, isn't it? Now there's Jack, whom I've known for ages, and who up to this morning meant no more, definitely, than any other nice young man that I played around with, talking to me as though we had been together for years and he owned me body and soul.

I, too, have changed in a short space of time. I answer him in a cooing, familiar way, and ask him if he has had his breakfast and whether he was late for business and all those little things (that are really none of my business yet), yet thrilling to me, and to the listening family, in the voice of the engaged girl. That's another family theory comes true—that "new note in the loved one's voice" stuff. Well, I've come up nobly to all their expectations. I feel proud of my record as a daughter.

In the back of my head is the thought that I shall soon be able to break away and run down to see good old Dorry, curl up in one of her "comfy" chairs, and smoke a cigar in perfect peace. I'll tell her the news and hear her groan of disgust, for Dorry does not believe in matrimony. Wants her career and hoped that I would develop along the same lines. She is, in fact, far happier with her paints and her dreams than I ever believed she possibly could be.

In my heart of hearts I know that without a doubt Jack will exercise his newly acquired authority and come and nip my proposed flight to the studio. But I wonder how I can manage to get my own way and yet keep him happy. An engaged man must be kept happy, according to all the rules of all the friends and relatives!

I was right, of course. Jack did come and the family gathered me to his bosom. Full force and kept me there till just now. And now it's bedtime. Once more I was kissed and blessed all around the beautiful, diamond-encrusted and bed-wrapped in a way that Jack and I will for my sovereignty later on when we have come to our senses.

Mother immediately asked him for a family dinner. We were teased and Jack never took an eye off me.

It's really thrilling to be adored for hours, by one who is your friend, and who grows on you. Jack's eyes are a pretty dark blue. They are very steady and possessive. I suspect that he has a temper—and how sort of makes me curious and how with him. I'm a very silly girl and a very lucky one. I kiss the world—and Jack.

FOR DESSERT
Tapioca Pudding—Chill the hot-over pudding and place in sherbet glasses, and then put teaspoon jelly over the pudding, pile with fruit meringue and dot with little jelly.

Use white of one egg and one-half glass currant jelly for fruit whip.

Pie Pudding—Stalk eight eggs in warm water for one-half hour. Now put the tips and one-half cups shelled peanuts, one and one-half cups stale raisins through the food chopper, using the medium crasse knife, and then turn into bowl and add two-thirds cup of sugar, one level tablespoon baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, six tablespoons shortening, one-half cup of sugar, one-half cup of syrup and one cup of milk.

Beat to thoroughly mix and turn into a well-greased mold. Place the mold in perfect peace. Bake in water bath and cook one hour. Serve with custard sauce and garnish with fruit whip.

Chocolate Cream Pudding—One-half cup sugar, pinch of salt, two tablespoons cornstarch, two tablespoons cocoa, pint of milk.

Stir dry ingredients together, add enough of the milk to moisten—about a half cup. Heat the remainder of milk to boiling point, pour into the cocoa mixture, place on the fire and bake until thick. Be sure to stir constantly while boiling.

Have about 25 cents worth of marshmallows cut in halves. Whip into mixture immediately after taking from above.

Pour into deep dishes and place in water bath. Serves five and is very economical, also delicious.

WHOLESALE CANDIES
Chocolate Fudge—One cup of white, granulated sugar, one cup of brown sugar, two cups of cream, butter size of a walnut, a pinch of salt, one tablespoon of chocolate.

Boil until it will form a soft ball, remove from fire, pour in one cup of peanuts or hickorynuts and beat well. Then pour in buttered pan; when cold cut squares.

Serious Candy—Three cups granulated sugar, one-half cup cane syrup, two-thirds cup water, whites of two eggs, one-quarter teaspoon salt.

Boil sugar, syrup and water until it will form a soft ball when dropped in cold water, then pour it into the beaten whites of the eggs when you drop it on buttered plates or oiled paper.

THE MORON WOMAN

A young man with great prospects met a social butterfly, a doll-faced girl, frivolous and in a sensual way, but nevertheless a moron—her mind was that of a child of 10. He admitted her, became infatuated, and made her his wife.

The young man made rapid strides in his career. He won a fine reputation in his particular calling, stepped higher and higher up in the world—but all the time there was a millstone round his neck. The butterfly wife never developed mentally. Her reading, pastimes, occupations were all frivolous, shallow.

Children came. The first boy was born and the second girl came in high school, with considerable outside tutoring, which normal lads do not require. Then one day the "eloped" with a girl of the street—his equal.

The next boy did a trifle better in school, but cigarettes got him by the time he was 17, and not long after he was heard to drink. Of course, venereal disease soon completed the trilogy, and the young man went to the devil.

The third child was a girl who is a little less competent mentally than her mother. She has figured in some of the society papers, and the "society people" she cultivates.

Young man, keep clear of the moron woman.

It is easy to detect her. She may be physically attractive, healthy looking, in a way pretty with her doll face and her air of girlish innocence, but it is from the eyebrows up that she is defective. Her mind is more childish than her physical appearance. She is incapable of serious thinking, she can't discuss political or world events. She hasn't the gray matter. In school she is a failure, she seldom reads, if she does, only for reading, if she does, only for reading. Her music, if she can play or sing at all, is generally as shallow as her mind.

With the Women of Today

Mrs. Elizabeth Sears, speaker for the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, is making a trip of investigation into the business conditions in the midwestern states. It is her belief that the influence of the business woman is ushering in a new order of things.

"Men have been working under the old dispensation," he points out, "which says that no woman shall do anything which might make any job a man into doing for her. The modern woman is working under a new rule which teaches that any woman is entitled to make any job a man into doing for her."

Mrs. Sears is strong in her condemnation of the parasitic woman. In speaking of her observations among women and the discovery that almost all women are doing something worth while today, she said in an interview: "A superfluous woman in any community will soon be as much of a disgrace as the community as superfluous food was during the Hoover regime."

"The business woman, although a recognized power in the business world today, is not essentially a reformer. In fact, she usually has little sympathy with the blatant reformer. The business woman is, however, a stabilizing influence in the business world and a strong factor in making the world safe for industry. She is given to thinking more of her responsibilities than of her rights and is making a wise and well directed use of her group power."

MAIL MEN QUIT WHEN WOMEN ARE EMPLOYED

When Akron, Ohio, employed three women as mail carriers because there were no men available, five of the regular mailmen resigned. The cause seems to have been the same as is always the case when women first enter any line of work which has been monopolized by men, the men complain because the women are given better pay, better opportunities, or better working conditions than the men have been accustomed to. In this instance the men complained because the women were receiving cents an hour while a postal employee for 15 or 20 years' service can not get more than 65 cents an hour.

"SAVE THE GIRLS."
IS NEW MOVEMENT
Abolition of the cigarette in America by 1925 is the aim of the International Anti-Cigarette League, which has been organized as successor to the Anti-Cigarette League.

"Save the girls" is one of the league slogans. An effort will be made to enlist every girl in Chicago in the "Clean Life Army" of the league.

Miss Lucy Page Gaston, executive superintendent, addressed meetings of ministers recently in an effort to enlist their aid. A campaign for $100,000 will soon begin.

ANSWER—If the bed-springs or mattress sags in the middle a strain is placed upon the sacro-lumbar joints (joints between the base of the spine and the hip bones), and this is a not uncommon cause of backache. The springs and mattress should be flexible and comfortable, but there should be no sagging in the middle. Health efficiency makes any reasonably good investment in good springs and good mattresses real economy.

I've heard if one cuts an onion in halves, and lets one raw half stand till next day before eating it, it is not harmful. (A. E. R.)

ANSWER—Well, send your unused halves over to our house next day and we'll dispose of 'em for you. The cut onions are as wholesome, as healthy and comfortable as the whole ones or onions stimulates the imagination of many, hence the various onion superstitions.

Heart and Home Problems

By ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a stranger in town. Recently I met by accident an ex-girl friend whom I thought I had seen somewhere before. I inquired about him from my employer and found he had come to town. It was another little town, but had never learned his name. He and I are employed at the same place.

He seems very much interested in me and my work, and I will admit, I am beginning to become very much interested in him. He is very jolly and often talks, but I am at a loss of how to talk to him.

It seems to me I have made an error, as I constantly recall how I made his acquaintance. Please tell me what I should do to overcome this.

THANKING YOU.

Of course, it is impossible for me to plan your conversations with the young man. Talk about anything that seems to fit the occasion and will interest him. The fact that he talks to you should make it easy for you to follow his lead.

You have not mentioned in what way you made your acquaintance. It matters little, however, since the mistake is already made and you cannot forget about it and act in such a way that from now on he will have respect and admiration for you. Never bring up the subject of your unconventional meeting.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have had help from you by reading your answers to others and now I wish to add my note.

I wish to advise the one signing herself "Brown Eyes." When I was a young girl I met and loved a young man who also had a temper such as the one described by "Brown Eyes." He always excused his bad temper, saying "he couldn't control it." He always seemed sorry, too, in a few minutes, but that was after I was so terribly humiliated and ashamed that I felt disgraced.

I was very young and my mother had died when I was a small child and so there was no one to turn to. I married him. Today except for my children I would be alone in the world. His jealousy drove all my friends away. If any one, man or woman, looked at me, I would get a lecture and he would ignore the party entirely. Now no one will come when he is home and that is most of the time.

My advice to "Brown Eyes" (my eyes are brown, too) would be to give him up. After once she is his wife he will show his real self and her life will be a counterpart of mine—a life of misery.

OBJECTION MADE TO ECONOMY CUTS

Sec. Meredith Has List of Grievances Concerning Agriculture Reductions.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1920, by Janesville Gazette.)
Washington, D. C., March 23.—Edward B. Meredith, editor, advertising man, promoter of large enterprises—in a word a successful business man—has today had the enthusiasm with which he took hold of the department of agriculture blighted with the cold hand of congress.

Mr. Meredith, who holds the position of secretary of the department of agriculture, has a list of grievances concerning the department of agriculture which he took hold of the department of agriculture blighted with the cold hand of congress.

But the house slashed the estimates of the department of agriculture, and while the senate committee undid some of the damage by raising the appropriations somewhat, the net result is a severe blow to the agricultural interests of the country.

Mr. Meredith, who holds the position of secretary of the department of agriculture, has a list of grievances concerning the department of agriculture which he took hold of the department of agriculture blighted with the cold hand of congress.

Some Reductions
Appropriations for the investigation of cereals have been reduced. They relate to the development of improved varieties of cereals through breeding and selection, the working out of practical methods for the control of important cereal diseases.

Other Cuts Made
The fund for soil surveys has been stricken from the bill.

Funds for the bureau of entomology for combating insect pests which have caused enormous losses every year, have been curtailed.

The efforts of the market bureau to aid in bringing about a more systematic and orderly distribution of farm products will be materially interfered with because the appropriation has been cut by more than $250,000.

The item for color investigation has been cut so that it will handicap the department of agriculture in the development of the dye industry in this country, which it had been hoped would make America independent of Germany.

Important crop reports on apples, peaches, potatoes, and truck farming will have to be discontinued.

Insufficient funds have been provided to fight the foot and mouth disease which kills cattle. If an epidemic breaks out while congress is not in session, the funds carried in the bill would not be enough to cope with the situation.

Meredith insists on these items. Secretary Meredith insists that all of these things relate pretty closely to production and the cost of living.

He went through the estimates of his department with a fine tooth comb and cut them down himself by more than five million dollars.

Although the senate increased the amount of the house bill, there is still a deficit of $2,500,000 below what the department calculates are rock-bottom needs.

In these days of billion dollar expenditures, the department of agriculture is a small fish in a big pond.

Opposing to Seeds
Secretary Meredith went on record as opposing the appropriation of $250,000 for the distribution of tree seeds, but the house wouldn't heed his suggestion.

The senate committee did and took it from the bill. If the item goes back in conference, the country, in the judgment of Mr. Meredith, will have a splendid opportunity to determine the good faith of a congress that on the one hand chops a quarter of a million dollars from the most vital item which has to do with production such as the market service, fighting of plant and livestock pests, research work, and on the other hand leaves in the bill a quarter of a million dollars for seeds to send free to prospective voters in the fall elections.

The secretary thinks that when the work of the department of agriculture is curtailed, it will seriously affect farm production.

He calls all this poor business—being penny wise and pound foolish. But Edward B. Meredith is new at the game.

He credulously believed the public good before congress laid all the cards on the table, keep every expenditure in his department down to rock bottom, and congress would accept the proposition as a business proposition.

There may be a good deal of agitation for a business man for president of the United States, but if Mr. Meredith's experience is a criterion, a business genius in the White House will be helpless without some business sense in congress.

Lap Dog's Broken Leg
No Cause for Speeding
(By Associated Press.)
Chicago.—In the opinion of justice of the peace John P. Boyer, Evanston, Ill., a lap dog's broken leg is not sufficient reason for the veterinary summoned to attend the injured member, to ignore the traffic laws.

Dr. J. V. Lacroix, a veterinary surgeon, was arraigned before Justice Boyer because he did not stop his automobile at an intersection.

"I was hurrying to see a lap dog's leg," the doctor said. "I forgot the regulations I guess. It was an emergency call."

Syrian Congress Declares Syria's Independence; Names Feisal King

Map showing Syria's location, and King Feisal.

The Syrian national congress has declared Syria to be an independent state. Prince Feisal, son of the King of the Hedjaz, has been proclaimed monarch of the new nation.

An assembly of 25 Mesopotamian notables, in session at Damascus, is expected to proclaim that province an independent state, too, and to request some kind of union with Syria.

Thus a large part of Turkey-In-Asia is in practical revolt against the settlement of the peace conference.

It is even reported that the Syrians have under arms 100,000 men, who are prepared to co-operate with the Turks in Cilicia and Anatolia unless their demands are granted.

The Syrians are chiefly aggrieved at the refusal of the Paris conference to concede their independence, and at its action in dividing their country into several distinct parts, each under a different protector.

They demand the erection of a free Syrian state, to extend from the Taurus Mountains to the Isthmus of Suez, and from the Mediterranean to the Arabian desert, a state to include Damascus as well as Beersheba, Palestine and Jerusalem as well as Alexandria.

It is reported that the Damascus congress is willing to accept a vague French protectorate for the country, but is doubtful whether this will incline the peace conference to accede to its demands. For these run counter to the English interests in Mesopotamia and Palestine, with the promise of an all-British protectorate from Suez to Calcutta.

There is a question, also, whether Syria is yet ready for independence. Just emerging from under the oppressive yoke of the Turk, divided geographically into several sharply marked provinces, racially into a dozen different peoples, in matters of faith not only into Mohammedans, Christians and Jews, but into a score of minor sects, the people of the new state might have much difficulty in establishing a permanent, stable, liberal government.

What steps the peace conference will take in the matter remains to be seen. That some concessions must be made to the Syrian nationalists, sentiment seems certain. But that these concessions will make the form of complete recognition of an independent, united Syria at present seems quite unlikely.

A disc will be arranged to shut off the light of the sun from the camera. When the machine is at great height, beyond the thick atmosphere, the disc of the sun will be thus eclipsed, photographs will be made, the first ever taken of the sun unaffected by the air waves.

Major R. W. Schroeder, who set a world's altitude record for 35,000 feet or more, when he was overcome and plunged earthward for six miles and then righted his machine, has decided to attempt to photograph the sun.

Schroeder is the only living man who has seen the "naked" sun, the is, who has seen it without the intervening air waves, which distort its appearance.

Some time in May, when weather conditions are favorable, Schroeder will attempt to reach an altitude of 40,000 feet. At this height the atmosphere is so rarefied that a photograph can be taken with none of the effects upon air waves. By an ingenious contrivance an eclipse of the sun will be "staged" so that the sun's edge can be pictured. Major Schroeder is attempting this in spite of his serious collapse on his previous trip and his exceedingly narrow escape.

Scientists are much interested, declaring such a picture will be of great value.

NEW LIBERAL PARTY WITH WET PLANK, PLAN OF SEN. FRANCE

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, March 22.—Warning that "republican liberals" might form a new political party to fight "bourbon autocracy" in an effort to restore individual liberty, was sounded in the senate today by Senator France, republican, Maryland.

With repeal of national prohibition and the espionage act as the chief planks in its tentative platform, Senator France declared that liberals need not hesitate "to raise the battle against the reactionary forces of autocracy and un-Americanism."

He called the party an "autocrat." "The democratic party, under autocratic leadership," he said, "ingloriously abandoned the sound doctrine of the sovereignty of the states, voted without scruple huge powers to the chief executive who was in violation of the constitution and of every cherished principle of liberty, created the most powerful despot in the world."

Charging that republicans joined with the bourbon reactionaries and connived in the setting up of this autocracy, Senator France said both parties "are as decadent as the issues that quickened them into being."

Liberal Party Needed.
"If the republican party shall not now become the party of liberalism and of liberty," he declared, "then there must be a new and liberal party which shall express the aspirations of the millions of Americans who demand restoration of their liberty and of their liberties."

Along with the repeal of the prohibition amendment, Senator France urged "reconsideration" of the whole subject with local option and use of "certain alcoholic beverages."

Some of the planks were: Operation of railroads by representatives of capital, labor and the public, under interstate commerce commission supervision.

Rejection of the "Iniquitous" Treaty of Versailles and immediate establishment of peace with Germany.

Reduction of the high cost of living, with economy of federal expenditures and reduced taxes.

A navy second to none and a system of military training, but postponement of immediate universal training.

Other demands were: Woman suffrage, a budget system, agricultural development, federal employment agencies, abolishment of child labor, "generous compensation" for service men permanently disabled, and development of the merchant marine.

Senator France charged that prohibition "forced through during the war while four million American boys were in service," was unconstitutional and an infringement on individual liberty and states rights.

He said the party would be organized in the near future, and would have as its first object the repeal of national prohibition.

SEEKS PAY FROM CITY FOR DAMAGE TO AUTO

Complaining that the city's negligence caused damage to his car to the amount of $58, Walter Bidwell, taxi operator, asks reparations from the city for this amount. The garage bill for repairs presented to the council by Mr. Bidwell last night was referred to Alderman E. F. Kelly and Street Commissioner Thomas McKune for investigation.

Bidwell says that on the night of March 11, while he was returning from a call on Cornelia street, both wheels of his car dropped through the iron grating of the curb at Prospect street, ruining both rear tires and casings, breaking the front seat and giving the car a severe jolt. He complains that the grating was broken but that it has now been replaced.

Additional equipment for the medical clinic in the city hall was ordered purchased last night by the council upon recommendation of Miss Leona Ludwig, social worker. The purchasing committee was given power to proceed with the buying of 13 chairs and a five-foot table in the city hall owned by the Red Cross. Miss Ludwig's application for installation of a Bell telephone in the clinic was denied.

SKELETONS GET AIRING --MUSEUM ON MOVE

Chicago.—A herbivorous dinosaur, a drove of South American peccaries, and a zebra went riding down Michigan boulevard in automobiles the other day.

The occasion was moving day at the Field museum, where the skeletons of the animals had reposed since world's fair days, 28 years ago. They were being moved to the new museum in Grant park.

The dinosaur, whose 80-foot skeleton weighs five tons, was moved in pieces. It will take about three months to take him apart, move the bones, and reassemble the creature, according to E. S. Riggs, expert in paleontology of the museum.

Dinosaurs gambled over the middle west several million years ago, during the Magdalena period of the paleolithic age, and browsed on the tree tops until the ruder pterosaurs and the pterodactyl began picking on it. The skeleton in the Field museum is one of the best examples of this extinct giant.

Police Speed Car
IS DUE NEXT MONTH

The new police motorcycle will be delivered sometime during the coming month according to promises given the city by L. M. Turner, head of the police department.

Inability to secure parts due to the coal miners' strike several months ago is given as reason for the delay. The manufacturers declared they have not yet shipped out a single 1920 model Henderson.

The new machine will be equipped with a side-car. Tom King will be its driver. The contract was made in December calls for payment of $670 for the outfit—$445 for the machine itself, $120 for the side car, and $15 for a speedometer.

Need of the motorcycle was emphasized by Ald. L. D. Horn at the council meeting last night when he complained of speeding autos in all outlying districts.

BILLY WHISKERS

When Billy heard that he was to be taught some new tricks his heart sank, for he disliked the ring master and was afraid they would make him stand on his hind legs and walk. Had he only known it, that was the easiest thing he would have to do. He was led to the performing ring and there stood the hated ring master facing a line of animals standing in a straight line reaching from one side of the ring to the other. In the middle stood the elephant, with the summer house, as Billy called it, on his back; next him stood a camel; next the camel a giraffe; next the giraffe a horse; next the horse a zebra, and last a little Shetland pony.

On the other side of the elephant there were more animals standing in the same order.

"What in the world can they want of me," thought Billy, but he soon found out, for they dressed him up as a clown in a white suit with red spots on it and tied a mask on his face and a pointed clown's cap on his head. Then they led him to where the pony stood and made him walk up a step ladder, onto a little platform, strapped to the pony's back.
